1. Qualitative Information and Financial Review

(1) Consolidated Business Results

During the three months ended June 30, 2024, the outlook for the global economy remained uncertain due to concerns about the economic slowdown arising from such factors as the progression of inflation and the unstable international situation. In the automotive industry, automotive production is generally trending toward recovery despite variances by region and manufacturer. In the area of electronics, demand for television and monitor applications appears to have bottomed and is showing signs of a recovery. On the other hand, although there has been a moderate recovery trend in the Japanese economy, the situation is one of continued uncertainty due to such factors as the weakening of household consumption caused by stubbornly high prices driven in turn by soaring resource prices and the impact of the weaker yen. In addition, responses to environmental issues, such as reductions in greenhouse gas emissions and the problem of climate change, are becoming increasingly important.

In Japan's foam plastics industry, food container-related demand and demand related to home meals and home-meal replacements is slowing as a result of personal consumption, which is showing signs of stalling due in part to increases in prices. Conversely, in the industry area, demand for parts, transport materials, and packaging materials is trending toward recovery.

In this business environment, the Group has been working as one on the three Key Issues of the three-year medium-term management plan, "Spiral-up 2024," which was launched in FY2022. In terms of "Strengthen the earnings structure," by selecting and concentrating management resources we are working to restructure the business portfolio, implement bold innovations in production, and generate profits rapidly from newly developed products. In terms of "Shift to businesses that solve environmental and social issues," we have also positioned "expanding Sustainable Star Product (our environmentally friendly product brand) through recycling-based business" and "striving to achieve carbon neutrality" as key issues, while striving to further strengthen SKG-5R activities. We recently obtained ISCC (International Sustainability & Carbon Certification) PLUS, which is an international certification system for sustainable products, for extruded foam products such as ELEN Sheets and LIGHTLON. This is a system for guaranteeing that the mass-balance method is being managed appropriately in the supply chain, which includes product manufacturer, for recycled, biomass, and other products. Going forward we will engage even more closely with such efforts to reduce environmental impacts through business activities.

In terms of sales, in the Human Life Segment we made efforts to expand sales of Sustainable Star Product, but fishery-related demand was weak, resulting in a year-on-year decline. On the other hand, in the Industry Segment we promoted efforts to capture the recovery in demand, leading to year-on-year growth and to an increase in revenue overall. In terms of profits, to improve profitability we responded to soaring energy prices by reducing costs and cutting fixed expenses, as well as revising selling prices.

For the three months ended June 30, 2024, the Group posted net sales of ¥33,792 million (up 9.8% year on year), operating loss of ¥220 million (compared to an operating loss of ¥588 million for the same period of the previous fiscal year), and ordinary income, including foreign exchange gains caused by depreciation of the yen, of ¥517 million (compared to an ordinary loss of ¥88 million for the same period of the previous fiscal year), and net income attributable to owners of the parent of ¥124 million (compared to a net loss attributable to owners of the parent of ¥374 million for the same period of the previous fiscal year).

* The "SKG" in "SKG-5R" represents SEKISUI KASEI Group, and the "5R" stands for Reduce, Reuse, Recycle, Replace and Re-create.

The results for each segment are as follows.

<Human Life Segment>

Net sales in the Human Life Segment reached ¥12,324 million (up 4.3% year on year), with a segment income of ¥117 million (down 53.4% year on year).

Food field	“ESLEN Sheets” <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Strong shipments of containers for supermarket food applications • Robust shipments of the PZ series of materials made with reduced resources, which we co-developed with FP Corporation, and containers for natto (a fermented bean product) • Shipments of products for instant noodle applications were weak, due to falling demand
	“ESLEN Beads” <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Shipments for agricultural applications were sluggish due to the effects of weather • Fishery shipments were weak due to the effect of declining catches • In life goods, shipments declined due to falling demand in cushion applications
Housing/Energy field	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Sales were weak in civil engineering-related materials due to delays in the progress of construction projects • Materials for rainwater storage applications performed well, due to success in capturing demand related to disaster prevention and mitigation

- * PZ series: foamed polystyrene sheets that help to reduce the use of plastics by seeking to achieve reductions in weight of 50-60% compared to traditional non-foamed molded products
- * “ESLEN Sheets”: low-foam polystyrene sheets
- * “ESLEN Beads”: expandable polystyrene beads

<Industry Segment>

Net sales in the Industry Segment reached ¥21,467 million (up 13.2% year on year), with a segment income of ¥618 million (compared to a loss of ¥155 million in the same period of the previous fiscal year).

Mobility field	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Despite reductions in production by automotive manufacturers due to the impact of the Noto Peninsula earthquake and other factors, PIOCELAN for automotive applications recorded strong results due to the global recovery in demand • Parts packaging applications saw a year-on-year recovery in southeast Asia, resulting in strong sales of PIOCELAN and other products • Sales of FRP and related materials for tracks and buses were strong • At the Proseat Group, sales were weak due to the lack of growth in vehicle production volumes, which was caused by the delayed recovery of consumption in the European market. Despite improvements in performance derived from revisions to prices and progress in productivity enhancements, it continued to make losses
Electronics field	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • LCD panel transportation material grew in Asia, and sales of PIOCELAN and other products were strong • Healthy demand for monitors resulted in strong sales of TECHPOLYMER
Medical/Healthcare field	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Sales of ELASTIL were strong due to sales for use with protective sneakers and other applications • Despite the delayed recovery in demand for medical and healthcare applications, gel roll shipments recovered and sales of ST-gel were strong

- * PIOCELAN: polystyrene/polyolefin hybrid resin foam
- * TECHPOLYMER: polymer particles
- * ELASTIL: thermoplastic elastomer foam
- * ST-gel: functional high-polymer gel
- * FRP parts: fiber-reinforced plastic

(2) Overview of Quarterly Financial Position

At the end of the first quarter under review, total assets had increased by ¥457 million to ¥146,930 million. In assets, increases in notes and accounts receivable - trade, and contract assets, etc., resulted in current assets rising by ¥594 million.

Liabilities increased by ¥2,265 million to ¥91,918 million, due to an increase in short-term loans and other factors.

Net assets decreased by ¥1,808 million to ¥55,012 million, due mainly to declines in items such as net unrealized gains on securities. Equity, which is net assets after deducting non-controlling interests, came to ¥54,250 million, and the equity ratio was 36.9%.

As for cash flows for the three months ended June 30, 2024, net cash used in operating activities was ¥685 million, compared to ¥77 million in net cash provided by operating activities in the same period of the previous fiscal year. This was due mainly to an increase in notes and accounts receivable.

Net cash used in investing activities increased by ¥409 million over the same period of the previous fiscal year to ¥1,131 million, due mainly to an increase in purchases of property, plant and equipment.

Net cash used in financing activities decreased by ¥1,361 million year on year to ¥213 million, due mainly to increases in proceeds from long-term loans. As a result, the balance of cash and cash equivalents as of June 30, 2024 decreased by ¥2,273 million from the end of the previous fiscal year to ¥8,594 million.

(3) Consolidated Financial Results Forecasts and Other Forward-looking Information

Consolidated earnings forecasts for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2025 are unchanged from the figures announced on April 30, 2024.

(4) Research and Development Activities

The amount of R&D expenses recorded by the Group during the three months ended June 30, 2024 was ¥688 million.

(4) Notes to Quarterly Consolidated Financial Statements

(Changes in Accounting Policies)

(Application of “Accounting Standard for Current Income Taxes,” etc.)

“Accounting Standard for Current Income Taxes” (ASBJ Statement No. 27, October 28, 2022; hereinafter “the revised 2022 accounting standard”) and relevant regulations have been applied from the beginning of the first quarter under review. Revisions to the category in which income tax, etc. is recorded (in cases where other comprehensive income is subject to tax) are subject to the transitional treatment stipulated in the provisos to paragraph 20-3 of the revised 2022 accounting standard, and paragraph 65-2 (2) of the Implementation Guidance on Accounting Standard for Tax Effect Accounting” (ASBJ Guidance No. 28, October 28, 2022; hereinafter “the revised 2022 implementation guidance”). These changes in accounting policies have no impact on the quarterly consolidated financial statements.

With regard to revisions related to changes in the treatment in the consolidated financial statement of cases involving the deferral of taxes associated with gains or losses arising from the sale of shares, etc. of subsidiaries between consolidated companies, the revised 2022 implementation guidance has been applied from the beginning of the first quarter under review. These changes to accounting policies have been applied retrospectively and consolidated financial statements for the same quarter of the previous fiscal year and for the previous fiscal year reflect this retrospective application. These changes to accounting policies have no impact on consolidated financial statements for the same quarter of the previous fiscal year or for the previous fiscal year.

(Note 4) Change of display method

In the three months ended June 30, 2024, "Germany," which had previously been included in "Europe," was broken out as a separate item due to its importance having increased in terms of net sales recorded in the consolidated statement of income during the previous fiscal year. In addition, the previous name of the region of "Europe" was changed to "Other Europe." In order to reflect these changes in presentation, figures for the three months ended in June 30, 2023 have been restated using the categories from after the change.
